

Clarity

What is Clarity?

In partnership with LINQ, we can provide real-time insights and analysis on your 'current' business processes, people, technology, and compare it with your desired business change. With Clarity, we can measure and understand the improvements/impacts of implementing the business change and help you make evidence-based decisions about where you should invest your time, money and people.

How

Clarity helps to create and understand your business model and desired business change. This easy-to-use solution provides insights which help you make evidence-based decisions about where you should invest your time, money and people and using the right technology solutions.

For example, getting more value and return on investment from integrating my other systems with Salesforce).

Product highlights are:

- Insights into the value of your information, current and future states (i.e. people and business processing time and cost, technology improvements and bottlenecks).
- Through the modelling of scenarios of change, you can solve your business transformation challenges; quickly understand your starting point, provide information to decision-makers.
- Document and understand your current business processes, people, time and costs in hours versus days or weeks.

What do I get?

- An insights assessment of your current business processes, people, technology, and compare it with your desired business change.
- A demonstration and trial of LINQ.
- Guidance on how to configure, implement, and how to use the solution.
- A report document or presentation to facilitate or support your decision-making process

Contact us today to arrange your free, no obligation chat and get more value from your Salesforce investment.

E: info@relationshipunlimited.com Ph: +64 4 479 1326